I have benefited greatly from being an XM Satellite subscriber. Since 2002 I have been a subscriber and have loved the variety of music, talk, sports, traffic and weather to me as an XM subscriber. I believe that satellite radio has provided the listener to have more choices to chose from than only what is provided in your local area. The ability to listen to the same stations all over the country has also played a major part in me maintaing my subscription. I like to travel by car and being able to have vareity and choices that are the same in different states is outstanding. Additionally, the Instant Traffic and weather is a major bonus because it allows me to instantly get the weather in several metropolitain areas, which is where I travel to most. This has proven itself to be beneficial because I do not have to figure out what the local stations are every time I get into a new city in order to find out the traffic or weather for that area. This can be time consuming and with the "non-commercial free" stations I could be searching for a great deal of time. XM has provided and continues to provide exactly what I as a consumer and a subscriber demand and deserve. Please reject the NAB's petition 04-160.
